

FIGURATIVE SAYINGS

to be fit as a fiddle	gesund und munter sein, quietschvergnügt sein	He was in poor health when I last saw him, but now he is as fit as a fiddle.
a flash in the pan	ein Strohfeuer, ein kurzer Einzelerfolg	The success of his first film was a mere flash in the pan. to put one's foot in it	ins Fettnäpfchen treten, sich verplappern	With his tactless way of talking he has put his foot in it more than once.
to take French leave	sich auf französisch empfehlen, heimlich verschwinden, sich verdrücken	He did not like the people at the party and took French leave as soon as possible. to jump (or get, fall, leap) out of the frying-pan into the fire	vom Regen in die Traufe kommen	Going up this road we've just got out of the frying-pan into the fire. The traffic here is worse than on the road we've just left. for good	für immer, endgültig	After his farewell concert he retired for good. not to let the grass grow under one's feet	nicht lange fackeln (oder zögern), keine Zeit verlieren	If I were you I wouldn't let the grass grow under my feet; I'd buy as many of these shares as I possibly could. to take a grip on oneself	sich zusammenreißen, sich am Riemen reißen, sich einen Ruck geben	If you want to finish today, you'd better take a grip on yourself and get on with your work!
to cover much (or a great deal of, a lot of) ground	eine beträchtliche Wegstrecke zurücklegen, viel Arbeit erledigen	The hikers covered a great deal of ground today.
That is half the battle	Damit ist die Sache schon halb gewonnen, damit haben wir gewonnenes Spiel, das ist die halbe Miete	As a teacher you should try to win the students' confidence, that is half the battle.
to be hand in glove (with s.o.)	sich (mit j-m) gut verstehen, ein Herz und eine Seele (mit j-m) sein, eng (mit j-m) verbündet sein, zusammenarbeiten, mit j-m unter einer Decke stecken	They were hand in glove, the old man and his brother.
to give (or lend) s.o. a hand (with s.th.)	j-m (bei etw.) helfen (oder behilflich sein, zur Hand gehen)	Could you lend me a hand with the packing, please? to have had it	am Ende sein, verloren sein, ausgespielt haben, 'verschissen' haben	Don't think I'd help you again. You've had it! to make hay while the sun shines	das Eisen schmieden, solange es heiß ist	The boss is in a very generous mood today, so we should make hay while the sun shines and ask him for a rise.
to be unable to make head or tale of s.th.	aus etwas nicht schlau (oder klug) werden, mit etwas nicht klarkommen	I can't make head or tale of this picture. head over heels (1)	kopfüber	He fell head over heels into the water. head over heels (2)	bis über beide Ohren	He was head over heels in debt. s.o. has his heart in his boots, s.o.'s heart is in (or goes into) his boots	j-d hat große Angst, j-m rutscht das Herz in die Hose	When the telephone bell rang, my heart went into my boots. I knew bad news was coming. to hold one's horses	sich zurückhalten, sich im Zaum halten	Don't be so rash! Hold your horses!

(straight) from the horse's mouth	aus erster Hand, aus direkter Quelle	I got the news straight from the horse's mouth. to be (skating) on thin ice	in einer prekären Lage sein, sich auf dünnem Eis bewegen	He was skating on thin ice in his speech because he had no real knowledge of the subject. to hit the jackpot	das große Los ziehen, Glück haben	That fellow hit the jackpot when he bought those shares. to kick the bucket (=slang)	abkratzen, ins Gras beißen, sterben	What about Mr. Jones? Oh, he kicked the bucket long ago. to know the ropes	den Verein (die Schliche, den Rummel) kennen, sich auskennen, Ahnung haben	Let him act as chairman, as he knows the ropes. to lead s.o. by the nose	j-n an der Kandare haben (oder halten), j-n am Gängelband führen	She leads her husband by the nose. to leave no stone unturned	nichts unversucht lassen, alle Hebel in Bewegung setzen	The parents left no stone unturned in their attempts to trace their missing son. to lick s.o.'s boots	vor j-m kriechen	He is very proud and will never lick anyone's boots.
to live it up	auf die Pauke hauen, sich ein schönes Leben machen	He inherited a fortune two years ago and has been living it up ever since.
lock, stock and barrel	ganz und gar, mit allem Drum und Dran	He took over the duties of his predecessor lock, stock, and barrel. not for love or money	nicht für Geld und gute Worte	She couldn't get a theatre ticket for love or money. to make both ends meet	mit seinen Einkünften auskommen, sich nach der Decke strecken, sich einrichten	The young couple had a lot of difficulty in making both ends meet. to be wiped off the map	vom Erdboden (oder Bildfläche) verschwunden sein	Where's that old pub that used to be at the corner? Oh, it was wiped off the map ages ago. to give s.o. his (to get one's) marching orders	j-n rausschmeißen oder hinauswerfen oder entlassen (rausfliegen, entlassen werden)	The girl did very poor work, so she soon got her marching orders.
to be beside the mark	nicht zur Sache gehören	All his comments were beside the mark.
Don't mention it.	(Antwort auf Dank:) Bittel!, (das ist) Nicht der Rede wert!; (Antwort auf Bitte um Entschuldigung:) Macht nichts!, Ist schon gut!	I'm so sorry to have troubled you. (reaction by other person:) Don't mention it. not to mince matters (or one's words)	es ohne Umschweife sagen, kein Blatt vor den Mund nehmen	I told him I wasn't satisfied, and I didn't mince matters. to be out of one's (right) mind	verrückt (geworden) sein, von Sinnen sein, den Verstand verloren haben	You must have been out of your right mind when you paid $80 for that dress!
to nail s.o. down to s.th.	j-n auf etwas festnageln	We must nail him down to what he told us before. to have the nerve to do s.th.	die Kühnheit/Frechheit besitzen, etw. zu tun	That fellow has the nerve to show up again! to be nuts (about)	verrückt sein (nach)	She thought he was nuts, because he always giggled in such a funny way. in a nutshell	ganz kurz (zusammengefasst), mit einem Wort, mit wenigen Worten	He put the whole plan in a nutshell and told us about it in 5 minutes.

the odds are that	es ist wahrscheinlich, dass ...	The odds are that she will come just before lunch. it makes no odds	es spielt keine Rolle	It makes no odds what you do, you'll always be the loser. to be at odds with s.o.	mit j-m uneins (oder zerstritten) sein	The two sons are at odds with their father. the odds are against s.o.	j-d ist im Nachteil/im Hintertreffen	He had been in training for only two days, so the odds were against him.
on and off, off and on	von Zeit zu Zeit, hin und wieder, ab und zu	She visited the old lady on and off.
What's on?	Was gibt's?, Was wird (im Theater usw.) gespielt?	What's on at the opera tonight? one of these days	demnächst einmal, bei Gelegenheit	You must show me the photos one of these days. the other day	neulich	The other day I saw Harry driving down Lewis Street in his new car. every other...	jede (-r,-s) zweite ...	It rained every other day during our holidays. to paddle one's own canoe	auf eigenen Füßen stehen	She could expect no more help from her parents and had to paddle her own canoe. to be (to give s.o.) a pain in the neck (slang)	einem auf die Nerven gehen, eine Nervensäge sein (j-m auf die Nerven gehen)	I don't want to see this fellow. He's such a pain in the neck. That noisy brat gives me a pain in the neck. to paint the town red	auf die Pauke hauen, die Gegend unsicher machen	They made a night of it and painted the town red. to have an itching palm	aufs Geld aus sein; sich bestechen (oder schmieren) lassen	The attendant has an itching palm. Slip him a pound or two and you'll be all right. a penny for your thoughts	Jetzt gäbe ich was darum, wenn ich wüsste, was du gerade denkst!	You're looking so pensive. A penny for your thoughts! in for a penny, in for a pound	Wer A sagt, muss auch B sagen	It's no use flinching now that things are getting to a more difficult stage. In for a penny, in for a pound! to pin s.o. down to s.th.	j-n auf etwas festnageln (oder festlegen)	The electrician promised me to come on Monday, but I couldn't pin him down to an exact time.
to play safe	kein Risiko eingehen, auf Nummer sicher gehen	We have to play safe and not take on any new commitments. to play it cool (=colloquial)	die Situation mit Ruhe (oder souverän) meistern, die Ruhe selber bleiben	He played it cool when he was obliged to fork up $1000.
to pull s.o.'s leg	j-n zum besten (oder zum Narren) halten, j-n verkohlen	You mustn't take what he said too seriously. He was just pulling your leg.
to pull a fast one on s.o.	j-n reinlegen, j-n hintergehen	He pulled a fast one on his friend and lost his friendship by it.
to pull the strings	die Fäden in der Hand halten	Officially he retired last year but in actual fact he is still pulling the strings in that insurance company.
to pull strings (or wires)	seine Beziehungen spielen lassen	We won't get seats for the concert without pulling strings.
Put that in your pipe and smoke it!	Merk dir das!, Lass dir das gesagt sein!, Das sag ich dir!	I'll never come back. Put that in your pipe and smoke it! at any rate (1)	auf jeden Fall, jedenfalls	At any rate we rely on your being here at eight o'clock.

at any rate (2)	zumindest, jedenfalls	The minister at any rate is not to blame. off the record	inoffiziell, nicht für die Öffentlichkeit (oder Allgemeinheit) bestimmt	Some of what the chancellor said at his press conference was off the record. to be in the red	in den roten Zahlen stehen	They got into the red by spending so much. to get out of the red	aus den roten Zahlen herauskommen	How will they ever get out of the red with such mismanagement? without rhyme or reason, have neither rhyme nor reason	ohne Sinn und Verstand (oder ohne jede Logik, unsinnig) sein	The new syllabuses are without rhyme or reason. to take s.o. for a ride	j-n reinlegen, veräppeln	The jeweler took you for a ride when he sold you this watch. to ring a bell with s.o.	j-m bekannt vorkommen, eine Erinnerung in j-m wachrufen	The name rings a bell with me. Where have I heard it before? on the rocks (1)	pleite, am Ende	The firm was on the rocks in a brief space of time. on the rocks (2)	mit Eiswürfeln	Waiter, a vermouth on the rocks, please! to rub s.o. (up) the wrong way	j-n verärgern	His tactlessness easily rubs people up the wrong way. in the long run	auf die Dauer	Crime doesn't pay in the long run. to get (to give s.o.) the sack	„fliegen“, rausgeschmissen werden (j-n rausschmeißen)	The employee got (or was given) the sack for petty embezzlements.
to sail close to (or near) the wind	sich hart an der Grenze des Erlaubten (oder am Rande der Legalität) bewegen	By taking this measure we don't actually offend against the law, but we are sailing very close to the wind.
to start from scratch	ganz von vorn (oder mit nichts) anfangen	After the war most of us had to start from scratch. to see s.o. home	j-n nach Hause begleiten, j-n heimbegleiten	He saw his girl-friend home long after midnight. to set one's mind on s.th., to be set (up) on s.th.	fest zu etw. entschlossen sein, sich etw. fest vornehmen	Martin has set his mind on learning foreign languages.
to set out to do s.th.	sich vornehmen (oder sich dranmachen, darangehen), etw. zu tun	He set out with the best intentions to help people. to be in s.o.'s shoes	„in j-s Haut stecken“, an j-s Stelle sein (oder stehen)	You are not to be envied. I wouldn't like to be in your shoes. to talk shop	fachsimpeln	He can't stop talking shop at mealtimes. to put on a show	eine Schau abziehen	The boy isn't really hurt, he's just putting on a show. to run the show	„den Laden schmeißen“	He runs the show, even though he's not the boss of the undertaking. to be six of one and half a dozen of the other	gehupft wie gesprungen sein, Jacke wie Hose sein	Whether you do the shopping now and the housework afterwards or vice versa is really six of one and half a dozen of the other. a slip of the tongue	sich versprechen (etwas sagen, was man eigentlich nicht sagen wollte)	I didn't mean to hurt her feelings when I mentioned the name of her ex-husband; it was just a slip of the tongue.

to smell a rat	Lunte (oder den Braten) riechen, einen Verdacht hegen, Verdacht schöpfen	No matter what we tell them, they will smell a rat. to call a spade a spade	das Kind beim (richtigen) Namen nennen	I'm not afraid to call a spade a spade: He is an impostor. to stand up for s.o. (s.th.)	für j-n (etw.) eine Lanze brechen, für j-n (etw.) eintreten	She's my sister anyway, and I must stand up for her. Stand up for your rights, but sit when you pee. within a stone's throw of...	nur ein Katzensprung von ... (entfernt)	They live within a stone's throw of the British Museum. to do a stretch	„sitzen“ (= eine Haftstrafe verbüßen)	His wife divorced him while he was doing a three-year stretch in prison. to have a sweet tooth	ein Leckermäulchen sein, Süßigkeiten mögen	I'll take her some chocolates. I know she has a sweet tooth.
Take my word for it!	Verlass dich drauf! Das sag' ich dir!	I'll pay you back for your insolent behavior. Take my word for it! take it or leave it	Mach, was du willst!	I think $ 2000 is far too much for this carpet. I've seen much cheaper ones elsewhere. Take it or leave it. That's my price! to talk turkey (to s.o.)	(mit j-n) Fraktur reden, ernsthaft (mit j-m) reden	Someone should talk turkey to him and remind him of his duties as a government official. to talk s.o.'s head off	j-m ein Loch in den Bauch reden	Here comes Mrs. Collins. Once she's got a hold of you, she'll talk your head off. there is no telling	man kann noch nicht sagen..., man weiß noch nicht	There's no telling what will happen when he becomes president. to be on good (bad) terms with s.o.	mit j-m auf gutem (schlechtem) Fuß stehen	The woman lived on good terms with her neighbors. to have s.th. on the tip of one's tongue	etw. liegt (oder schwebt) einem auf der Zunge	I had his name on the tip of my tongue, but then I had to answer the telephone and couldn't think of it any more.
to give s.o. tit for tat	j-m mit gleicher Münze heimzahlen	He insulted her severely, but she gave him tit for tat.
Touch wood!	Toi, toi, toi!	I haven't had an accident with this car as yet, touch wood! to turn one's nose up at s.o. (or s.th.)	die Nase über j-n (etw.) rümpfen	She has become rich over night and turns her nose up now at such simple meals.
to be up and about (or around)	wieder auf den Beinen sein	She's up and about again after her severe illness. to be up against it	in der Klemme sein, „aufgeschmissen“ sein	If help doesn't come soon, we shall be up against it. to draw a veil over s.th.	etw. verschleiern (oder verbergen), über etw. schweigen	Let's draw a veil over what happened later on. to walk out on s.o.	j-n verlassen, j-m davonlaufen	He can't be blamed for walking out on his wife. She's such a vixen (zänkisches Weib).
So what?	Na und? Na wenn schon!	She has an illegitimate child. So what? to be out of the wood	das Schlimmste überstanden haben, über den Berg sein	Once we had paid the last installment on our furniture we felt we were out of the wood.